Leather gifts: Consider a stop at Duval Leatherwork for all things leather. There are handmade leather belts ($50-65), handmade leather wallets ($25-85), key snaps ($10-15), waxed canvas accessory pouches ($15-45) and coaster sets for $15. All products are handcrafted in Kingston. With holiday hours starting November 23 of Monday-Saturday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m., it should be easy to stop when they are open. Products are available online at www.duvalleatherwork.com too, where there's free shipping. 314 Wyoming Ave., Kingston.

North Face Men's Ventrax Jacket. This mid-layer, highly breathable jacket was a present to myself already this year. I couldn't resist its cool look or the cozy-feeling material. It's perfect for any kind of guy, especially ones liking hiking, skiing and traveling. There are tiny slits in the jacket that open when you move, giving it a breathability and regulating to the person's body. $199. Top of the Slope, 100 S. Main St., Wilkes-Barre.

Johnston and Murphy Dress/Casual Cap Toe Boot: The latest and greatest in the boot world, these are great for year-round wear.

They're also versatile to dress up or dress down, so he can decide if he wants to wear jeans or a suit on any given day. There's a zipper feature, too, so they only need to be tied once. The wooden and leather sole with flex technology is great for grip and comfort. $179. The Haberdashery, 900 Rutter Ave., Forty Fort.

Patagonia Quarter Zip Jacket. This classic is still an all-time favorite for men. A variety of colors are on display and it's a jacket that he'll wear over and over again. I've already purchased two for presents this season, so consider this practical piece. $99. Top of the Slope, 100 S. Main St., Wilkes-Barre.

Susquehanna Brewing Company Swag: One of my advertising colleagues, Michael Hoskins, made this recommendation and I wholeheartedly agree. 'Tis the season to enjoy the latest blends from our local Pittston brewery, where the bottle labels are as colorful as the tastes are delightful. There's signature, seasonal and specialty brands to match anyone's tastes. While the beer is great and I hope you'll enjoy it this holiday, the swag is perfect for gift-giving. There are T-shirts, hoodies, growlers, hats and much more available that the modern man will be proud to flaunt. Visit www.sbcbeer.com or 635 S. Main St., Pittston.

Gifts for the sports fan

Everybody gets cold sooner or later. We live in Northeastern Pennsylvania after all. So why not get the sports fan on your list a pair of knit gloves sporting the logo of his favorite NFL team. These officially licensed, stretched-to-fit gloves come in vibrant team colors. At $11.99 pair, they won't set you back a whole lot either. You can find them at www.sportsfanisland.com.

You can't be a diehard sports fan if you can't listen to the games ... all the games. So maybe you should consider a satellite radio for the sports fan in your life. Best Buy in the Arena Hub Plaza offers a wide variety of radios for the home and the car. Most come with a trial subscription, full of NBA, NHL, MLB and college sports action. There's even ... gasp ... soccer. The radio pictured retails for $46.99 and comes with a free three-month subscription.

Play ball! If you have a baseball fan on your list, why not consider a Scranton/Wilkes-Barre RailRiders season ticket package as a gift. The RailRiders offer a variety of packages from full-season, 70-game deals all the way down to 18-game packages. Prices vary and details are available at Any diehard NFL fan would be thrilled to find an authentic satin team jacket under the tree. Schuylkill Valley Sports in the Wyoming Valley Mall offers a wide selection of the jackets, both in the store and on its website, www.svsports.com. The Philadelphia Eagles jacket pictured would delight any fan of the defending Super Bowl champs and retails for $130.

If a baseball fan isn't on your holiday gift list, maybe a hockey fan is. Then Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins tickets would make the perfect gift. The Penguins season is already underway, but there are still plenty of good games to choose from. Individual game tickets start at $19.75 and can be found at www.wbspenguins.com.

Any football fan would love a their favorite player's jersey for a holiday gift. Dick's Sporting Goods in Wilkes-Barre Township has team jerseys available for $100. Check <http://www.dicks.com> for a wider selection.

Gifts for the gamer

By Patrick Kernan
pkernan@timesleader.com

Gamers who grew up in the 1990s are sure to remember the purple dragon named Spyro. The original trilogy of Spyro games were technological marvels when they first released on the original PlayStation, but they were also something far more important: good, clean, family-friendly fun where the titular Spyro has to save the dragon world. Now, the original trilogy has been re-released on one $40 disc as the “Spyro Reignited Trilogy,” featuring brand new scaled up graphics and rerecorded music. This makes the perfect budget title for anyone who wants to play some of the best platforming games of all time, and both longtime series fans and newcomers to the title will love it. This title is available on PlayStation 4 and Xbox One.

What kid doesn't dream of being a superhero? Well, now you can be. With “Marvel's Spider-Man” exclusively for the PlayStation 4, players step into the role of everyone's favorite friendly neighborhood Spider-Man. Climbing up walls and swinging over the painstakingly recreated streets of New York City has never felt so real, compared to previous Spider-Man video games. Put that together with a surprisingly heartfelt story that focuses on Peter Parker's interpersonal relationships in a truly unique way and you've got yourself one of the best single-player experiences of the year. Get it for $60.

For fans of racing games, there truly has never been anything like “Forza Horizon 4.” The game takes players to the countryside of England, with some of the most realistic natural elements in video games. As players explore the countryside, seasons change causing different weather conditions which changes how the cars drive. Also, the game is massively online, which means all the drivers players see are other players, which leads to every race being unique and community-building. This one is an Xbox One exclusive, and is available for $60.

INTRODUCING
SHOWSTOPPER

Sugar Plum
CHOCOLATES
a little taste of happiness

If we could choose one word to describe our new Showstopper, “flatter” would be it. Why “flatter”? Well, bring one to your next gathering and look at the praise you'll get. But you'll also notice the shape – it's flat! We reimaged our Chocolate Mountain as a flat, easily-transportable treat for gifting and parties.

One of the best rated role-playing games of all time is back, and this time, it's portable. “Diablo III,” first released in 2012, has been re-released on the Nintendo Switch this year. Create your own character and literally descend into Hell to fight back the forces of evil. The Switch re-release is the most complete single version of the game available, with all downloadable content released since the game first launched there on the cartridge. There's also some special, Nintendo-themed goodies exclusive to this version. Pick it up for $60.

“Red Dead Redemption 2” is already the top-selling piece of entertainment. Ever. Of any medium. So that should tell you something about its quality. Its story is slow and plodding, mimicking the rhythm of late 1800s life in America's “Wild West.” However, in this way its story is incredibly emotionally resonant, allowing the player to make decisions about how to solve each problem — and they're free to decide if they want to act honorably or like a true outlaw. Featuring some of the most gorgeous graphics, writing and music to ever appear in any video game, “Red Dead Redemption 2” is not a game to be missed. However, its story is as violent as any spaghetti western, attempting to make real, complex commentary on the failings of the American Dream, and should only be played by mature gamers. It's currently on sale for $60, and is available on PlayStation 4 and Xbox One.

If your significant other enjoys dressing the dog in cute outfits and is not a fan of chilly winter nights, fabdog.com has just the thing. The company offers matching human and dog pajamas. For $25 each, your dog and your significant other can go to bed each night in identical outfits. They are available at shop.fabdog.com. The website offers a host of other human-dog matching outfits.

What cat doesn't love catnip? So what cat wouldn't love Petlinks' Plush Player refillable squirrel cat toy. The extra long plush refillable catnip toy comes with a tube of Pure Bliss organic catnip. Just fill up the little fellow and watch you cat have hours of fun. Available at Pets Supplies Plus in Wilkes-Barre for $9.98.

Let's not forget about our friends that love tropical fish. This lovely Christmas tree will make any fish tank festive. This particular bit of holiday decor is available at petsmart.com for just $9.99. But check your local Pet Smart for a host aquarium holiday decorations.

Gifts for pet lovers

Does the animal lover on your gift list just hate to be away from their furry little friend? Well then, Cuddle Clones may just have the gift that's perfect for them. For $99, Cuddle Clones will craft a 3D figurine of your pet that any pet owner would be pleased to have on their desk. The premium sandstone figurines are 4 inches long and 3 inches tall.

Unique, handmade, fun, festive collars, flowers, and bowties that you won't find anywhere else are available at Three Dog Bakery on Wyoming Avenue in Kingston. High quality designs for dogs of every size. Prices range from $12.99 to $23.99

Everyone has that one friend. And if "that friend" of yours is a ferret owner, he would love this Marshall Pet Products Pop N Play ferret ball pit toy. The 14-inch square play area has 10-inch high walls to make sure the ferret stays safe and sound inside the ball. It also features a tunnel which allows the ferret to enter and exit the pit. It's like a Chuck E. Cheese for your little furry friend. It's available at Pet Co. in Wilkes-Barre Township for $18.99.

The cat in your life will love finding Pet-Safe's Cheese Cat Toy under the Christmas tree. The toy allows your cat to play an exciting game of peek-a-boo with two mice that pop out of each side of the swiss cheese block. It even has a "play while your away" mode to keep your little feline amused when you can't be home. It does use three AA batteries that are not included. You can pick up the Cheese Cat Toy at Pet Supplies Plus in Wilkes-Barre for $30.98.

Have a pet love on your list who is also a fan of the Philadelphia Eagles. Then Boscov's has just the thing for you. Your pet-loving friend can make sure everyone knows that the Eagles are number one with this Eagles Super Bowl champion pet t-shirt. The shirt is available from boscovs.com for $15.99.

For those students who want to take their music with them as they run for fitness or make their way to class, wireless headphones can provide clear listening for the day's activities. The Jaybird XF Wireless Headphones available at Best Buy in several colors provide an eight-hour playing time and are water resistant and sweat-proof. Comply ultra foam provides both fit and comfort. The earphones let you listen to music or take calls during exercise — perfect for buckling down on New Year's resolutions or while getting in shape for sporting activities. For $129, this gift will be appreciated by students to open the year with music and fitness.

With Christmas comes the onset of colder temperatures and outdoor winter activities. Don't send the students you know back to class with cold hands and chilly heads. Instead, a hat, scarf, gloves and mittens are a great choice to bring both color and warmth as students get back to class or venture out into the cold for a good time. You can find Cuddl Duds knitted hats, gloves and even ear warmers at Kohl's ranging from around $20 to $50. The great variety of color, texture and style, will make it possible for students to go back to school fashionably warm as they head off to class.

For students whose academic endeavors require an updated backpack, a double zip backpack from A New Day, available at Walmart, provides both functionality and eye appeal. Crafted with nylon and with a slight sheen, it is accented with multiple inner pockets for securing a cell phone and other important items. The exterior pocket has a magnetic closure for easy access to items used the most. The backpack is available at Target.com and for $44.99. Similar backpacks are available at Target's Wilkes-Barre Township store, starting at $25, with a wide range of style and function.

Students who want to fill some extra time on Christmas break can do so at local movie theaters catching up on the latest releases and spending time with friends. Wilkes-Barre's R/C Movie Theater on Northampton Street offers gift cards online at tinyurl.com/y9ohfmgk. Cinemark in Moosic makes gift cards available at tinyurl.com/yatffw9d

A comforter set is just the thing for students returning to college in January or even to freshen up the room of your high school student as the cold weather sets in. A Marble Comforter set from Bed, Bath & Beyond supplies not only warmth, but beauty and comes with a comforter and pillow sham in 100 percent cotton. This gift available at Bed, Bath and Beyond, Wilkes-Barre Township, bring chic sophistication and warmth to any bed or dorm room starting at $60. The gift is also available online at tinyurl.com/y7cww5jh

"Slip Stitch and Pass" is the second official live album re-released by Phish, and fans of jam music might be excited to revisit an early foray into the career of one of the most hailed bands in the genre. The record was originally released in late 1997 after having been recorded at the Markthalle Hamburg in Hamburg, Germany. On Record Store Day Black Friday, the album is being re-released on double two-color splatter vinyl. Quantities are limited to 6,000 copies.

Fans of hardcore punk will love to open up "What We Do Is Secret," an EP collecting some early recordings by The Germs, one of the forefathers of hardcore punk. The EP was initially released in 1981, just after the overdose death of lead singer Darby Crash. Now being re-released, the record pulls together some of the band's recordings from a handful of studio sessions and live tracks from the band's last performance at the Starwood nightclub.

Gifts for the Music Fan: The Best of Record Store Day Black Friday

"Raw Power" saw Iggy Pop and The Stooges making some pretty drastic changes to their sound. Released in 1973, the band's third record switched away from the groovier songs of their first two records and transitioning into something more... well, punk. But this was before punk was punk. The album is regarded as a classic in hard rock, marking one of the watershed moments in the creation of punk rock. And now, rare outtakes from the album's recording sessions are being released for the first time ever as "Rare Power." Only 3,000 of these albums are being pressed, so fans of Iggy Pop should get to their local record store to own a piece of history.

In 1968, Frank Zappa's band the Mothers of Invention released "We're Only In It For the Money." The band's third album, it's a concept album that uses Zappa's trademark oddball sound to lampoon politics, counterculture and other music of the time. Now, for the record's 50th anniversary, the album is being re-released for the first time. Pressed on a collectible picture disc, the album uses the original mono recordings. Pick up one of only 4,000 copies.

Perhaps the most exciting special release for Record Store Day Black Friday is "Ella at the Shrine," a newly discovered recording from The Queen of Jazz herself, Ella Fitzgerald. The record captures a 20-minute live performance that was recorded 10 days before the recording of her classic album, "Ella at Zardi's" — and actually features some promotion for that concert at the end. Only 3,000 copies of the record will be available nationwide.
